This year, there will be an RPS Multimedia distinctions assessment day on 4th November at RPS House, Bristol. To help inform applicants on standards and requirements we will be holding an Advisory Day at Smethwick PS clubrooms. This is an opportunity to bring multimedia/AV work for advice on its suitability and standard for an RPS Distinction. The process and requirements for submitting work will be addressed and examples of previously successful AVs/films will be shown.

The main opportunity, however, will be to show your work to members of the Multimedia distinctions panel for their comments. Panel members will include Richard Brown FRPS and Howard Bagshaw ARPS. You can bring along a complete set of work which you are thinking of submitting, or an example or two to gain some idea of where this work stands in relation to the standards of the different RPS Distinctions.

We also welcome observers, who want to better understand the process of gaining a distinction and want to see what is expected for the different levels of distinction.

If you are planning to bring work, please email howard.bagshaw@ntlworld.com to let us know and plan the day.

To book, either go to the RPS website or contact Howard Bagshaw
